I have lived in Williams for over 20 years with my husband, Jon and our three children Jacinta 13, Molly 11 and Lola 9.

Together we run a fabrication and construction business. I am very aware of the opportunities and challenges faced by small business people in our community. Previously I have worked as a health promotion officer with WA Country Health so I am also supportive of living in a healthy and safe environment.

I feel passionately about the future of Williams and want to be able to give more for my town. I also believe that council needs broad representation to reflect the demographics of Williams.

I am keen to support new initiatives that encourage community connectedness and economic development.
